Disney
FROZEN
A Sister More Like Me
by Barbara Jean Hicks
illustrated by Brittney Lee
SCHOLASTIC

Disney

FROZEN

A Sister More Like Me

by Barbara Jean Hicks

illustrated by Brittney Lee

SCHOLASTIC INC.

To Laurel and Lindy, the two best sisters in the world

—B.J.H.

To Lainey, my little sister and source of endless inspiration

—B.L.

No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without written permission of the publisher. For information regarding permission, write to Disney Press, an imprint of Disney Book Group, 125 West End Avenue, New York, NY 10023.

ISBN 978-0-545-80687-9

Copyright © 2013 by Disney Enterprises, Inc. All rights reserved. Published by Scholastic Inc., 557 Broadway, New York, NY 10012, by arrangement with Disney Press, an imprint of Disney Book Group. SCHOLASTIC and associated logos are trademarks and/or registered trademarks of Scholastic Inc.

12 11 10 9 8 7 6 5 14 15 16 17 18 19/0

Printed in the U.S.A. 40

First Scholastic printing, November 2014

Designed by Winnie Ho

My name is Princess Elsa.
I'm as royal as can be.

If the words look neat and purple, then they belong to me.

I'm her little sister,
Anna—I like color,
noise, and shine.

When the words are pink and crowded, you can tell that they are mine.

When you and I were little,
we were close as we could be.

I was happy you were Anna.
You were thrilled that I was me.

Till I had to hide my magic,
and our closeness
had to end.

I was still your older sister,
but I couldn't be your friend.

I followed you around the house and chattered like a bird.

I tried my best to please you,
but you never said a word.

That's when I started dreaming about how my life would be . . .
if I ever had a chance to have
a sister more like me.

I considered it my job to do what needed to be done.
You were always and forever finding ways to have more fun.

There were times you made me crazy, though I tried to let you be—as I wondered why I couldn't have
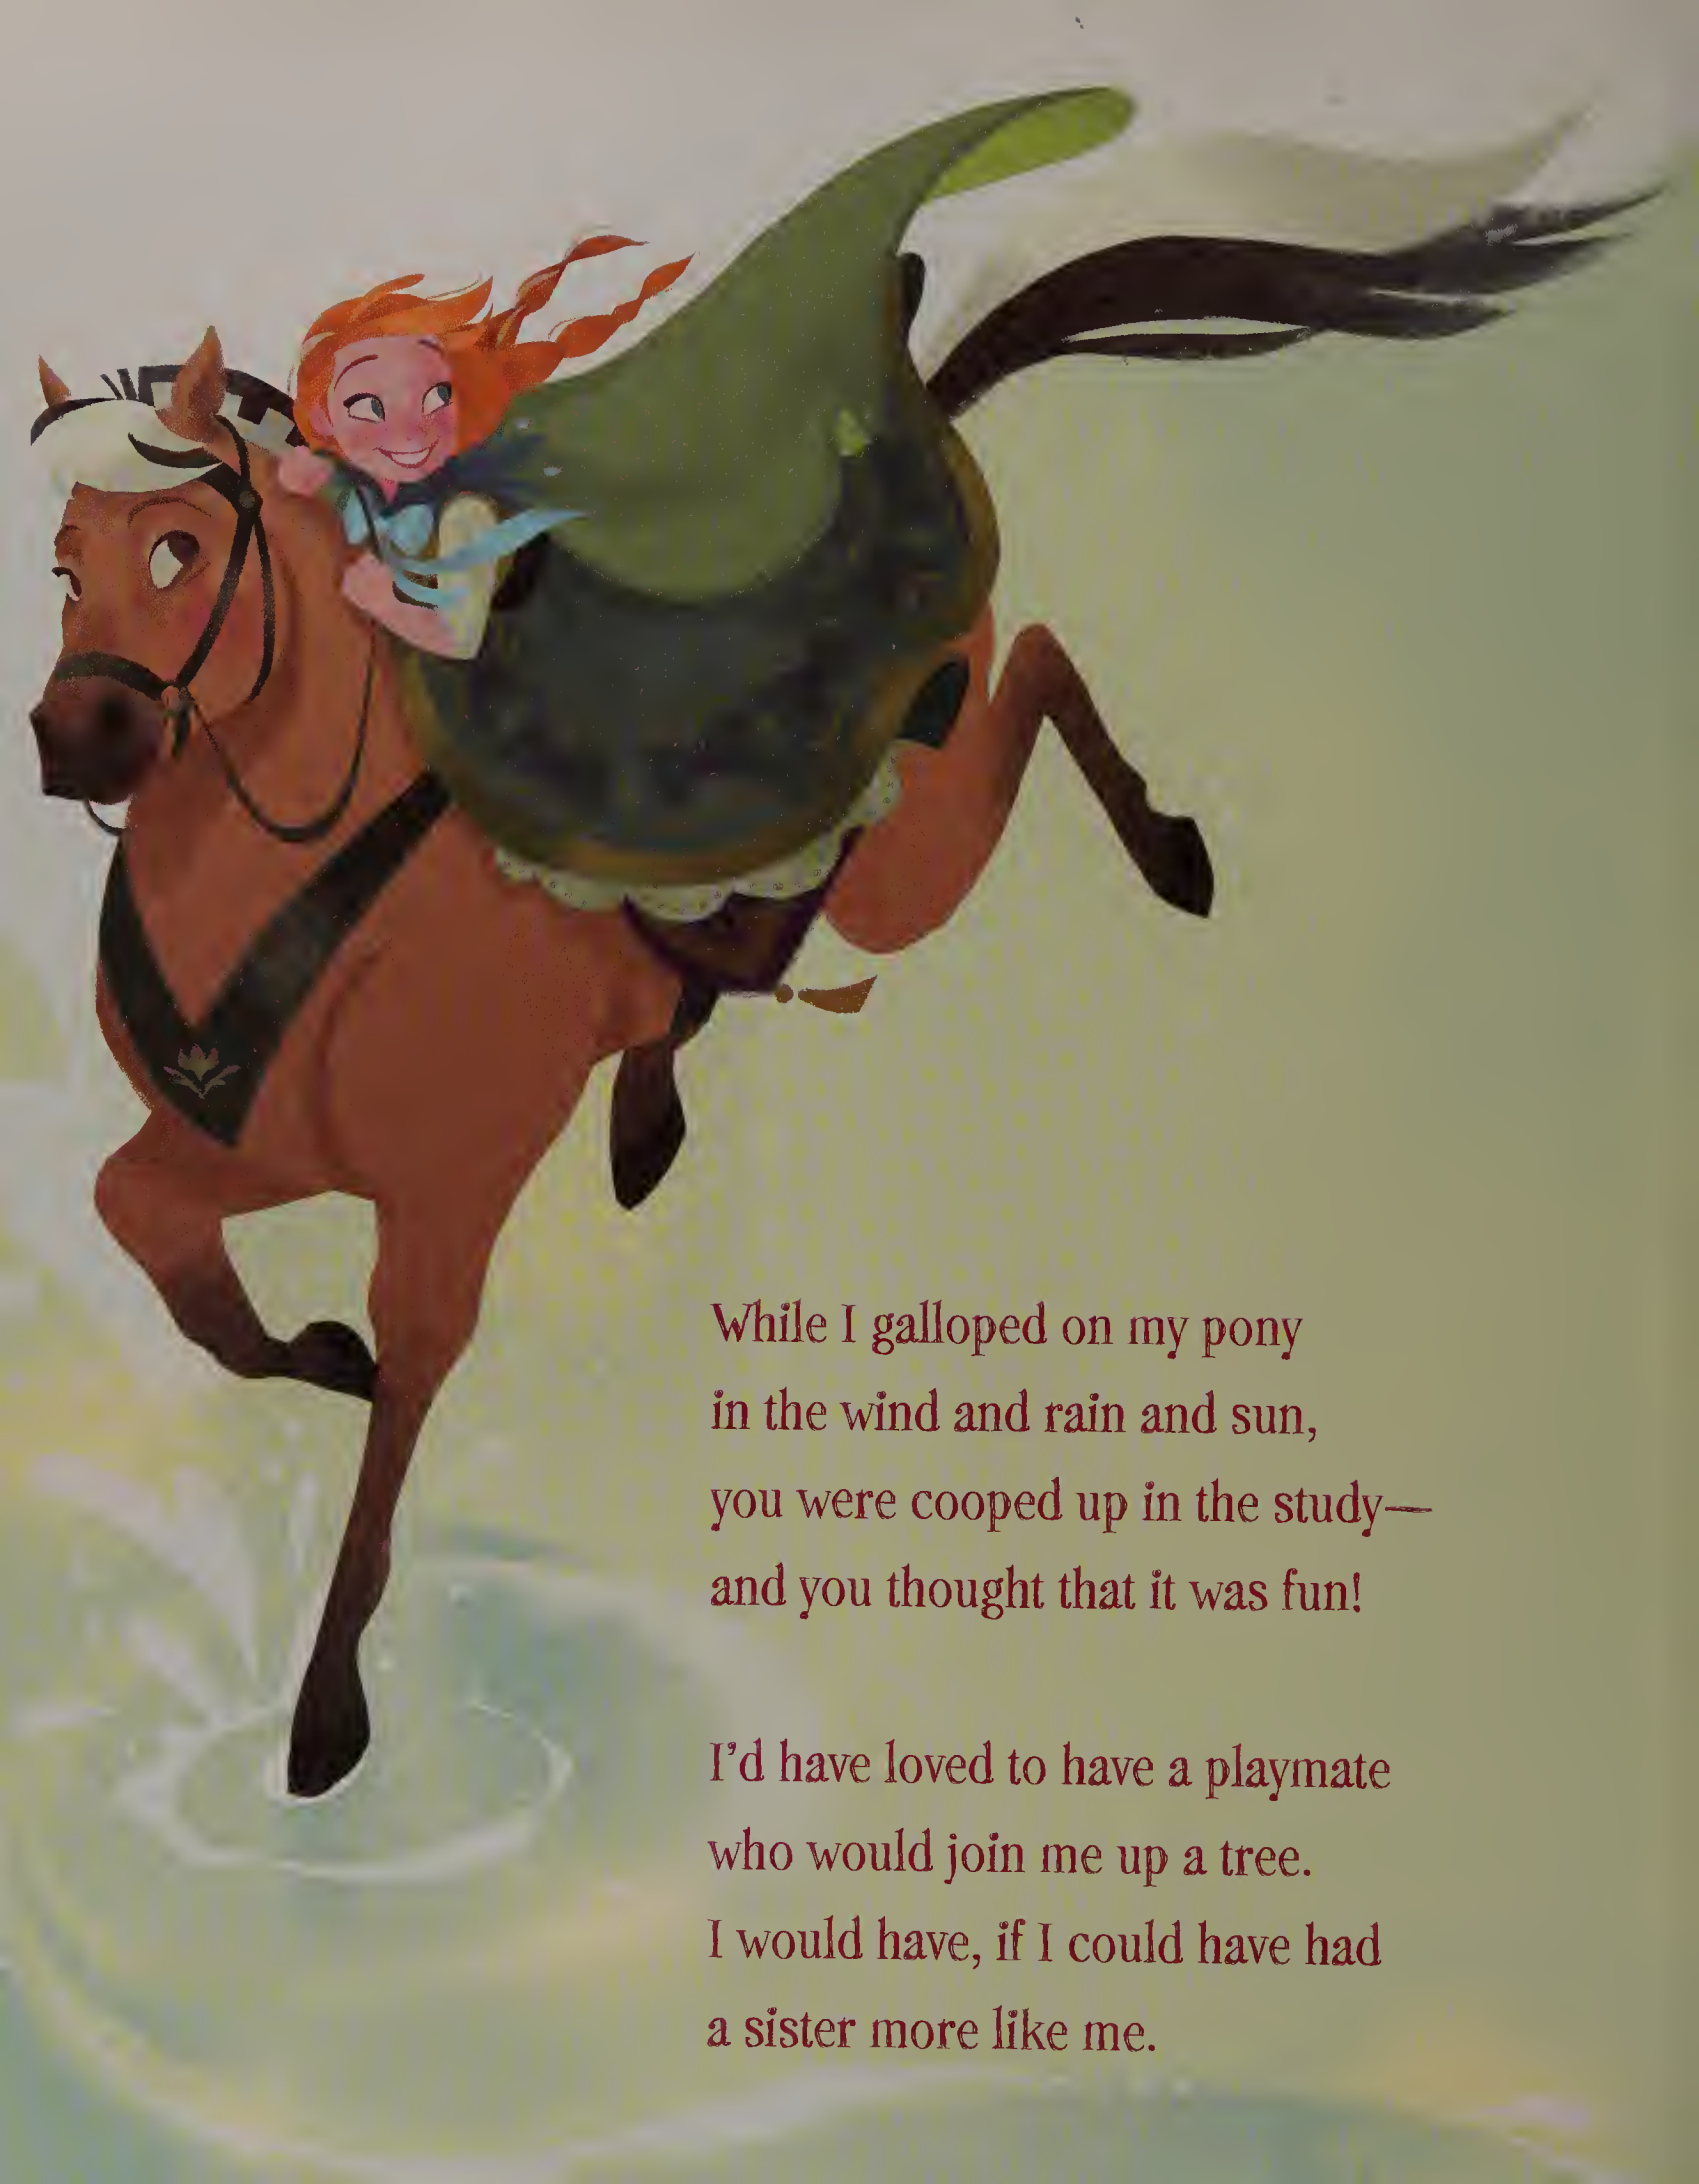
a sister more like me.



While I galloped on my pony
in the wind and rain and sun, you were cooped up in the study—
and you thought that it was fun!

I'd have loved to have a playmate who would join me up a tree.
I would have, if I could have had
a sister more like me.

And I'd have loved to have a friend who knew geometry—
I would have, if I could have had a sister more like me.

You needed peace and quiet.

I was Princess Meet-and-Greet.

Your room was an explosion!

Mine was always clean and neat.

You were elegant and proper,
and you loved a fancy tea,

while I preferred a bright and breezy picnic by the sea.

You didn't seem to care a bit about the way you dressed.
It was important, as a princess, that I look my best.

You were the picture of perfection,
every day, no matter what.
I tried to understand you,
but the door was always shut.

Then one day I was so dazzled when I saw what you could be.
And I wondered . . . did I really want a sister more like me?

You showed me that you loved me,
and I suddenly felt free—and truly glad I didn't have
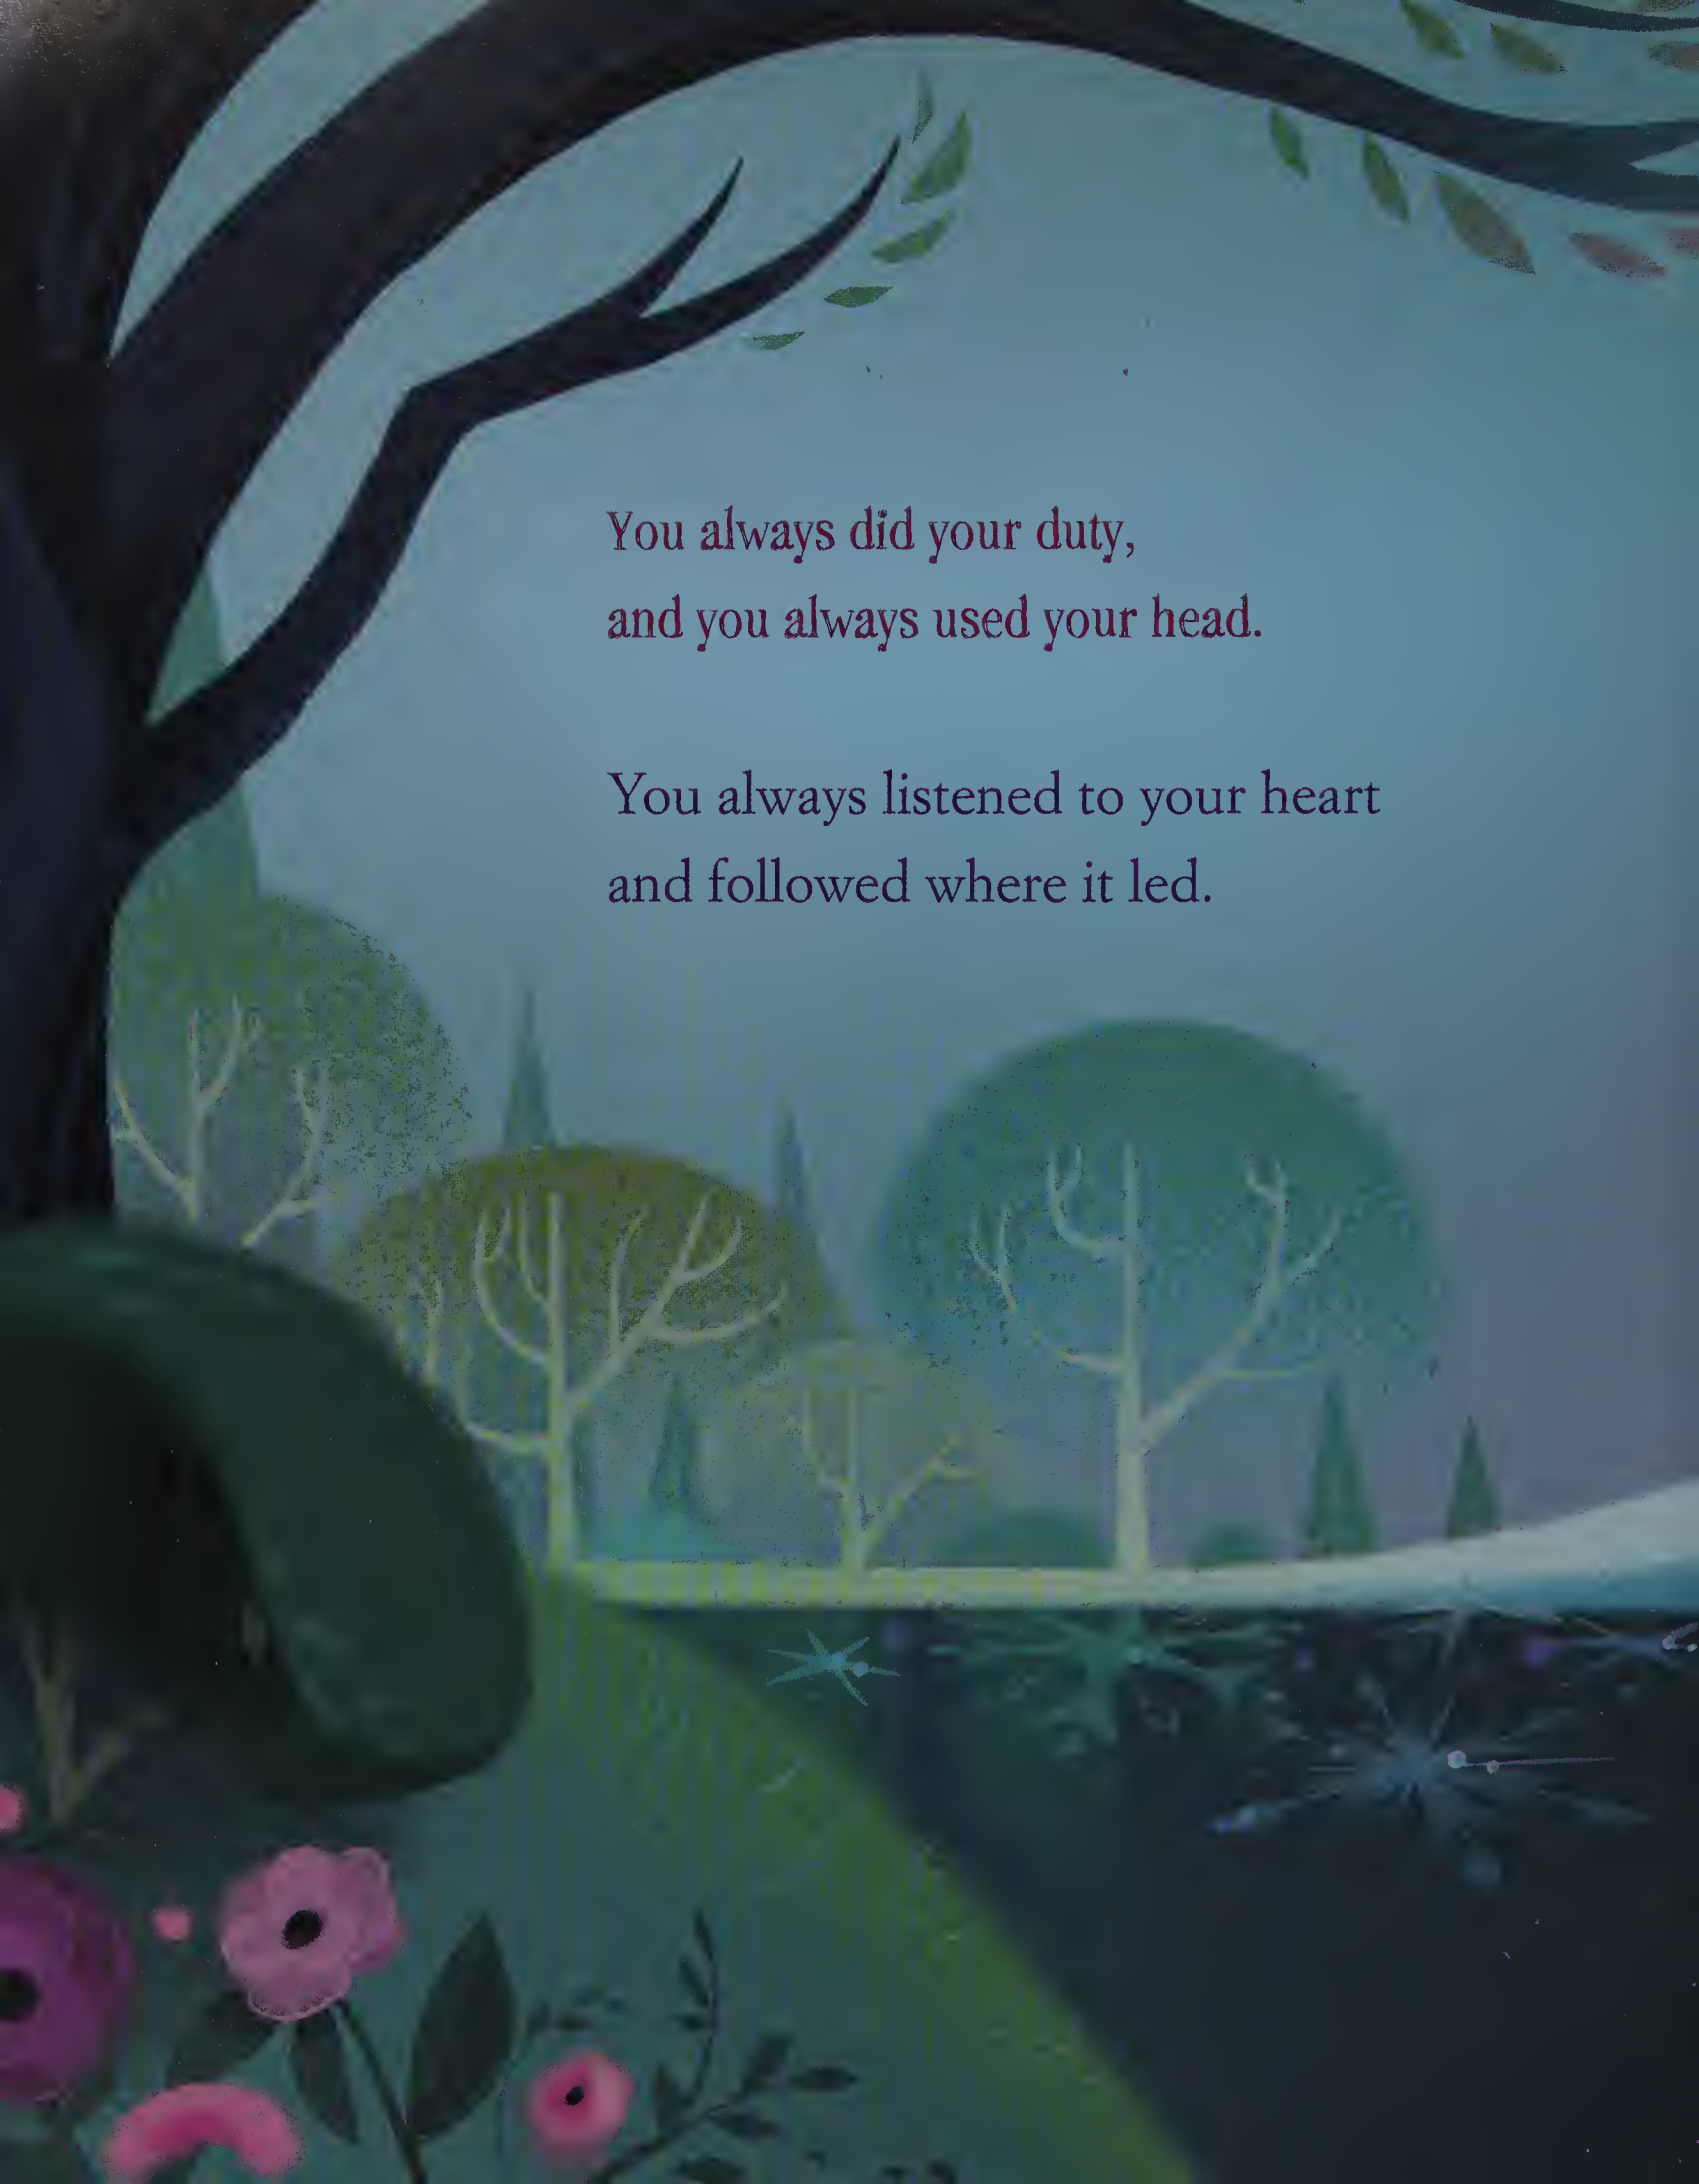
a sister more like me.



You always did your duty,
and you always used your head.

You always listened to your heart and followed where it led.

I'm very glad I haven't had a sister more like me.
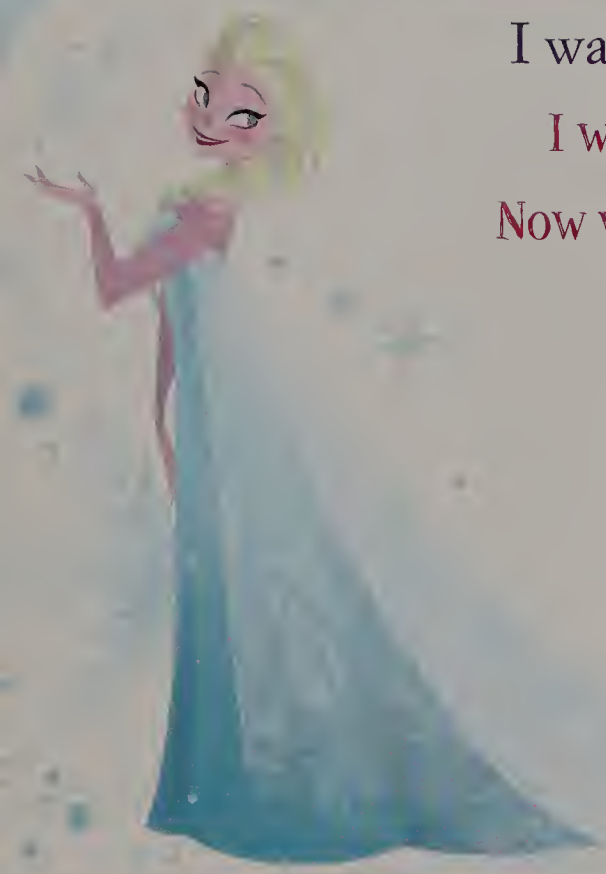
With you around, without a doubt, I see things differently.

I was prickly as an urchin.

I was stubborn as a mule!

Now we try to work together—



it's our Sister Golden Rule.

You are bold and fearless, Sister,
and you have a loving heart.

You are poised and graceful, Sister,
and so wonderfully smart.

I'm so happy you are Anna, and I'm pleased that I am me.

I'm thrilled that you are Elsa, and I'm happy I am me!

But even more important—we are happy we are WE.

Cover © 2013 Disney Enterprises, Inc.

This edition is available for distribution only through the school market.

SCHOLASTIC

www.scholastic.com

ISBN 978-0-545-80

EAN

9 780545 801

KH-188-279